

(6) The cost of a first-class railway fare from their homes and back will be granted to candidates attending the medical and qualifying examinations in India.

Candidates finally concerned to join the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, will also receive the cost of one first-class fare from their residence in the port of embarkation, in India, and a first-class passage by sea to England.

Applications for railway fares should be made to the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor of Madras.

Passages by sea for candidates selected for admission to the college will be arranged by the Esplanade Commandant, Bombay, under orders from Army Headquarters.

Selected candidates will be sent to Madras in charge of a British officer, who will be appointed by Army Headquarters and who will meet the candidate at Bombay. Such candidate will land over to this officer at Bombay the sum of Rs. 300 to cover the cost of expenses incurred during the voyage to England.

(7) The fees for cadets at the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, are £350 per annum for two years in the case of sons of private persons and £450 per annum in the case of sons of military officers below the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. These fees are exclusive of contingent expenses, sundries, etc., which are as follows:—

| | Rs. |
|--|-----|
| Contingent amount for first term | 100 |
| Profit money at £2 per annum | 72 |

| Sundries, &c. | 120 |
| Total | 260 |

(8) The sum for sundries includes additional expenses during the vacations, such as travelling and entertainments. The expenses of cadets will, as far as possible, be kept within the above limits, but the parents or guardians of cadets must be prepared to pay any excess over these amounts.

(9) The above estimate does not provide for European kit as served in England other than the amount required for college uniform (for the purchase of European kit an additional sum of from £100 to £200 should be provided). Neither does this estimate include anything for the cost of mail as being contributed from the college.

(10) The Local Government will recover from parents or guardians one-half of the total estimated expenditure for two years at the beginning of each year of the Sandhurst course and pay it into the Local Treasury with full details in each case and with instructions that the cadette should be paid to the Secretary of State for India through the outward London Account Current.

(11) An allowance of 4s. a day, in aid of the expenses of mending, washing, and other contingencies, will be admitted as a charge against the public for each cadet so long as he is in residence at the Royal Military College. All other necessary expenses which must be incurred by this allowance shall be chargeable to the parent or guardian of a cadet.

(12) If a cadet is absent a whole term in consequence of sickness, a payment of £10 shall be required in lieu of the half-year's contribution for the privilege of his name being kept on the roll of the establishment, and for a vacancy being kept open at the commencement of the next term.

(13) If a cadet is sanctioned or removed during a term, his daily allowance shall cease from the date of such sanction or removal, and the contribution made for the half-year shall be forfeited, unless otherwise specially decided by the Army Council.

(14) If a cadet is absent from sickness during a portion of the term, his allowance shall continue to be issued and credited to his account. (15) Indians selected for cadetships will be subject to such rules and regulations as may, or may be from time to time, established for the maintenance of good order and discipline at the college.

They will, while at the Royal Military College, belong to the ordinary College Mess and no special messing arrangements can be made on their behalf.

Indian cadets are required to appear at all times in the uniform of the college except when on leave or when otherwise sanctioned by the Commandant, but they will be allowed to wear their national head dress should they so desire.

They will not be allowed to take servants or personal attendants of any kind to the college.

(16) One of the rules for admission to the Royal Military College is that a cadet cannot be married. This rule will be waived in the case of Indian candidates, but in no circumstances will a cadet be allowed to take his wife or family to England.

(17) The normal length of the course of instruction will be about two years divided into four terms. The college terms will be—

Spring term.—From about beginning of February to about middle of July.

Candidates will be charged for rooming, but the use of the rest of the quarters will be borne by Government. Suitable arrangements will be made for those candidates who are persuaded, by circumstance, from using the food provided.

Candidates may arrange for quarters in the hotel other than those provided, but they will be liable for any additional cost incurred. Candidates will on no account be allowed to live elsewhere.

Parents or guardians must ensure that candidates are provided with sufficient funds to meet the cost of their expenses while in Simla.

(20) The Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor of Madras, to whom applications should be made not later than August 10th, will intimate to the selected candidates the date of their selection. No applications received after the 10th August will be considered.

The maximum number of marks obtainable for each of the above subjects, whether Obligatory or Optional, is 2,000.

All subjects of class I must be taken up; not more than two of the subjects of class II may be taken up.

The standard in subjects of class I except Mathematics will be the Intermediate. The standard in Mathematics will be below the Intermediate as explained below. The standard in the Optional subjects will be that of the B.A. (First) of an Indian University. Candidates will be required to reach these standards in each of the four Obligatory subjects, but candidates who fail in only one Obligatory subject but make 6,000 marks or more in the aggregate will take their place in the list of qualified candidates according to the aggregate of the marks obtained.

COMPULSORY MATHEMATICS.

The course is as follows:—

(1) Arithmetic.—The whole of Arithmetic. (The use of Algebraical symbols and processes will be permitted.)

(2) Algebra.—The four simple rules, Fractions, Greatest Common Measure, Least Common Multiple, Factors, Remainder Theorem, Properties, Simple Equations of one or more unknown quantities with easy problems, Quadratic Equations, with easy problems and theory of Quadratic Equations, Graphs and their applications.

(Candidates should be provided with squared paper.)

(3) Geometry.—Practical and Theoretical Geometry.

The questions in Practical Geometry will be set on the constructions contained in the annexed Schedule A, together with easy extensions of them. All figures should be drawn accurately, for which purpose every candidate should provide himself with a graduated scale, a pair of set squares, a protractor, a compass and a hard pencil.

The questions in Theoretical Geometry will consist of Theorems contained in the annexed Schedule B, together with easy extensions and deductions with numerical illustrations. Any proof of a proposition will be accepted which appears to the Examiners to form part of a systematic treatment of the subject. The order in which the Theorems are stated in Schedule B is not imposed as the sequence of their treatment. In the proof of the Theorems hypothetical assumptions will be permitted.

(Candidates will be provided with squared paper.)

BOOKS A.

Division of angles and of straight lines.

Construction of perpendiculars to straight lines.

Construction of an angle equal to a given angle.

Construction of parallels to a given straight line.

Simple cases of the construction from self-evident data of triangles and quadrilaterals.

Division of straight lines into a given number of equal parts or into parts in any given proportions.

Construction of a triangle equal in area to a given polygon.

Construction of tangents to a circle and of common tangents to two circles.

Simple cases of the construction of circles from self-evident data.

Construction of a fourth proportional to three given straight lines and a mean proportional to two given straight lines.

Construction of regular figures of 3, 4, 6 or 8 sides in or about a given circle.

Construction of a square equal in area to a given polygon.

BOOKS B.

Angles of a Point.

If a straight line stands on another straight line, the sum of the two angles so formed is equal to two right angles; and the converse.

If two straight lines intersect, the vertically opposite angles are equal.

Parallel Straight Lines.

When a straight line cuts two other straight lines, if—

(i) a pair of alternate angles are equal, or

(ii) a pair of corresponding angles are equal, or

(iii) a pair of interior angles on the same side of the cutting line are together equal to two right angles, then the two straight lines are parallel; and the converse.

Straight lines which are parallel to the same straight line are parallel to one another.

Triangles and rectilinear figures.

The sum of the angles of a triangle is equal to two right angles.

If the sides of a convex polygon are produced in order the sum of the angles so formed is equal to four right angles.

If two triangles have two sides of the one equal to two sides of the other, each to each, and also the angles contained by those sides equal, the triangles are congruent.

If two triangles have two angles of the one equal to two angles of the other, each to each, and also one side of the one equal to the corresponding side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two sides of a triangle are equal, the angles opposite to these sides are equal; and the converse.

If two triangles have the three sides of the one equal to the three sides of the other, each to each, the triangles are congruent.

If two right-angled triangles have their hypotenuses equal, and one side of the one equal to one side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two sides of a triangle are unequal, the greater side has the greater angle opposite to it; and the converse.

Of all the straight lines that can be drawn to a given straight line from a given point outside it, the perpendicular is the shortest.

The opposite sides and angles of a parallelogram are equal; each diagonal bisects the parallelogram and the diagonals bisect one another.

If there are three or more parallel straight lines and the intercepts made by them on any straight line that cuts them are equal, then the corresponding intercepts on any other straight line that cuts them are also equal.

Areas.

Parallelograms on the same or equal base and of the same altitude are equal in area.

Triangles on the same or equal base and of the same altitude are equal in area.

Equal triangles on the same or equal base are of the same altitude.

Theorems and explanations of the geometrical theorems corresponding to the following Algebraical identities—

$$1 + 2 + 3 + \dots + n = \frac{n(n+1)}{2}$$

$$1^2 + 2^2 + 3^2 + \dots + n^2 = \frac{n(n+1)(2n+1)}{6}$$

$$1^3 + 2^3 + 3^3 + \dots + n^3 = \left(\frac{n(n+1)}{2}\right)^2$$

$$1^4 + 2^4 + 3^4 + \dots + n^4 = \frac{n(n+1)(2n+1)(3n^2+3n-1)}{30}$$

The square on a side of a triangle is greater than, equal to, or less than, the sum of the squares on the other two sides, according as the angle contained by those sides is obtuse, right, or acute. The difference in the case of inequality is twice the rectangle contained by one of the two sides and the projection on it of the other.

Line

The locus of a point which is equidistant from two fixed points is the perpendicular bisector of the straight line joining the two fixed points.

The locus of a point which is equidistant from two intersecting straight lines consists of the pair of straight lines which bisect the angles between the two given lines.

The Circle

A straight line drawn from the centre of a circle to bisect a chord which is not the diameter is at right angles to the chord; conversely the perpendicular to a chord from the centre bisects the chord.

There is one circle, and one only, which passes through three given points not in a straight line.

In equal circles (or in the same circle), (i) if two arcs subtend equal angles at the centres, they are equal; (ii) conversely, if two arcs are equal, they subtend equal angles at the centres.

In equal circles (or in the same circle), (i) if two chords are equal, they cut off equal arcs; (ii) conversely, if two arcs are equal, the chords of the arcs are equal.

Equal chords in a circle are equidistant from the centre; and the converses.

The tangents at any point of a circle and the radius through the point are perpendicular to one another.

If two circles touch, the point of contact lies on the straight line through the centres. The angle which an arc of a circle subtends at the centre is double that which it subtends at any point on the remaining part of the circumference.

Angles in the same segment of a circle are equal; and if the lines joining two points subtend equal angles at two other points on the same side of it, the four points lie on a circle.

The angle in a semi-circle is a right angle, the angle in a segment greater than a semi-circle is less than a right angle, and the angle in a segment less than a semi-circle is greater than a right angle.

The opposite angles of any quadrilateral inscribed in a circle are supplementary; and the converses.

If a straight line touch a circle and from the point of contact a chord be drawn, the angles which the chord makes with the tangent are equal to the angles in the alternate segments.

If two chords of a circle intersect either inside or outside the circle, the rectangle contained by the parts of the one is equal to the rectangle contained by the parts of the other.

Proportion: Similar triangles.

If a straight line is drawn parallel to one side of a triangle, the other two sides are divided proportionally; and the converses.

If two triangles are equiangular, their corresponding sides are proportional; and the converses.

If two triangles have one angle of the one equal to one angle of the other and the sides about these angles proportional, the triangles are similar.

In any right angled triangle the perpendicular to the hypotenuse from opposite vertex divides the triangle into two triangles which are similar to the whole triangle and to each other.

The internal bisector of an angle of a triangle divides the opposite side internally in the ratio of the sides containing the angle and likewise the external bisector externally.

The ratio of the areas of similar triangles is equal to the ratio of the squares on corresponding sides.

(8) All scholarships payable under the above rules are liable to forfeiture for absence, misconduct, irregularity in attendance, or failure to make due progress or to secure annual promotion.

(9) A scholarship held in any class will run from the beginning of the month in which the holder joins the class, and shall not continue to be drawn after the census is closed it.

(10) The scholarships are payable monthly and in advance.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES APPEARING FOR THE EXAMINATIONS TO BE HELD IN SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER, 1922.

Candidates for University Examinations are required to observe the following instructions very carefully—

1. Strict silence should be maintained in the examination room.

2. Candidates should take their places in the examination hall at least five minutes before the time fixed for opening out the papers. Candidates presenting themselves more than half an hour after the appointed time will not be admitted to the examination hall. Candidates who are tardily entering from extraordinary causes of any kind will not be admitted.

Candidates should bring with them to the examination hall each day of the examination their hall tickets for inspection by the Chief Superintendent.

3. Candidates are prohibited from writing upon their hall tickets or question papers. Candidates are also prohibited from writing their names on any part of their answer books, but their register numbers should be written very distinctly on the outer cover of each book. Failure to write their register numbers may involve the rejection of a candidate's papers.

4. Candidates are not allowed to exceed the time assigned to each paper.

5. Candidates will be allowed to leave the examination room till the expiry of fifteen half an hour after a question paper has been given out; and no candidate who leaves the room during the period allotted for a paper will be allowed to return within that period.

6. Candidates are forbidden to ask questions of any kind during the examination. They are further forbidden to communicate with the examiners; should they do so, their answers will not be valued, and their conduct will be reported to the Syndicate for disciplinary action.

7. Candidates are not allowed the use of books of any kind (except as provided in rule 4). They are also prohibited from introducing into the examination room any book or portion of a book, notes, manuscript, or paper of any description; from communicating with or copying from each other; and from communicating with any person outside the examination room. Any candidate detected in the violation of these rules will be treated as the person guilty, and his conduct will be reported to the Syndicate. The use of books at University Examinations is not permitted except to students answering papers in Mathematics. The use of mathematical instruments whilst answering papers in Mathematics and in the Physical Sciences will be allowed. Such instruments will not be supplied by the University.

8. Clarke's Mathematical and Physical Tables will be supplied to candidates in groups (i) and (ii) of the Intermediate and S.A. Degree Examinations.

9. Candidates are required to provide themselves with their own pens. Candidates may bring into the examination hall their own ink bottles. They must, however, see only that ink while answering their question papers.

10. Particular attention is requested to the instructions regarding rough working and loose sheets of paper printed on the answer books. All rough working must be shown on the left hand page of the answer books themselves. No separate books for rough working will be supplied to candidates. Paper must not be detached from the answer books of candidates. If the ordinary answer books are found insufficient, additional books will be allowed and these should be securely fastened to the answer books.

11. As soon as candidates have finished writing their answers, and wish to give up their answer books, or at the end of the period prescribed for each particular part of the examination, each should stand up in his place and remain standing until one of the superintendents has given up to him and has received his answer book from him.

12. Communications to the Registrar from candidates requesting information relating to the results of examinations will not receive attention until after the publication of the results in the Port St. George Gazette. Success or failure, however, will be communicated by telegraph, if required.

The hall tickets of candidates sitting for the examinations at Madras will be ready for distribution at the Senate House four days before the date of each examination. Candidates sitting for the examinations at various other than Madras should apply to the Chief Superintendents of the respective centres for their hall tickets.

Candidates appearing at centres where they are not known must be prepared to satisfy the Chief Superintendents of such centres as to their identity.

The time-table for the several examinations are as follows:—
